Walk Softly, But Carry a Big Stick,
One American Said

When the weather forecast reads "local thundershowers" it isn't kidding — although you can't possibly guess where or when they are going to strike. Ray Allen, Eldon Coffman, and your editor left Hope late Wednesday afternoon for the Narrows lake, with a big black cloud looming up in the east around Emmet. But it was far north that we found the rain, an hour-long squall that came out of Newhope, passed through Daisy and swept south clear to the Swaha lodge. It would rain, of course, over the river... Land-locked Hope didn't get it.

Americans are pretty indignant over Anthony Eden's speech in parliament indicating a new British softness toward the Reds on the eve of his and Churchill's arrival here for foreign policy conferences with Eisenhower and Dulles.

But I am wondering if the British may not have picked up the sage advice of an old-time American whose own people have forgotten him. The American was Teddy Roosevelt, and his advice was: "Walk softly, but carry a big stick."

A break with the British would leave America standing absolutely alone in the world. France is too perilously involved, both in Indo-China and North Africa, to think of anyone but herself. South of our continental border we have no close friends and no dependable allies; when the Reds seized Guatemala, with its obvious threat against the Panama Canal, the Latin American nations became definitely aloof.

It is important that Britain and the United States maintain some kind of working agreement, because France is a sick nation, and the circumstances are such that the two of us have to stay in a position where we are able to help. I'm not thinking about Indo-China — not at all. What I'm thinking about is the piece William L. Ryan, foreign news analyst for the Associated Press, wrote on the grand strategy behind our ring of air bases in North Africa, England, Spain, and Turkey.

The North African bases are some of the most important, and they are on French territory. Ryan wrote this paragraph which I think tells every American the true score:

"American experts say these things are so formidable Moscow must keep its air force at 50 per cent fighters to offset the bomber threat. The more bases the West has, the more freedom of action it has in time of war, from the standpoint of choosing places from which to attack. The more bases the West has, the more Moscow's air defense problems increase, the more its defenses must be dispersed."

So it isn't what Eden may say in parliament, and the decision may not be on Indo-China at all. The crux of the whole world problem is the strategy of war — and that's the only thing Britain and France and the United States must not fall out about.

Maybe we speak loudly, and the British and French speak softly — but let us make very sure we are still carrying the big stick.

Miss Arkansas for 1954 to Be Selected

SEARCY (UP) — Twenty-four of the state's most talented and lovely girls today neared the end of the road that leads to the coveted title of "Miss Arkansas of 1954."

The annual affair, the state's oldest beauty contest, goes into the finals at 7:30 o'clock tonight. Contest officials said the winner's name will be announced shortly before 10 p. m. Gov. Francis Cherry will crown the new beauty queen at the coronation ball which begins at 10 p. m.

Last night, half of the contestants modeled bathing suits and formal wear while the other half demonstrated talents. Then the two groups reversed the order. The contestants were judged on points but the judges declined to name winners in individual events, as has been the custom in past years.

A final rehearsal for tonight's show was scheduled for 8:30 a. m. today. The annual "Miss Arkansas" parade, featuring bands and floats and with each contestant riding in an open convertible, will be at 2 p. m.

The winner will receive a $750 wardrobe, a $1,000 scholarship, and an expense-free trip to Atlantic City N. J. to represent Arkansas in the "Miss America" contest.

Miss Helen Joyce Reed, Hot Springs, now Mrs. Helen Reed Newsum, won the title last year.

Farm Folks Get Encouragement From Dr. Hilton

More than 400 farm people from southwest Arkansas got a word of hope today from one of the country's outstanding educators. Dr. J. H. Hilton, president of Iowa State College and former dean of agriculture at North Carolina State College, was the principal speaker at the 26th annual visiting day of the University of Arkansas Fruit and Truck Crop Branch Experiment Station here.

"When we get to thinking of the tremendous problems facing us today, it is easy to become discouraged," Dr. Hilton said. "It is true that we live in a world of uncertainty, doubts, and insanity. But we must remember that we have gone through all this before, and we have come out stronger each time. We cannot keep tomorrow from coming, with all its new problems, but we can better prepare ourselves to meet them."

The speaker compared today's pattern of farming with that of 30 years ago. He cited such changes as the shift from horses to machines, from a lack of communications to present-day radio and television, and from inadequate health facilities to today's sulphur drugs and antibiotics.

The Iowa State president declared that southern farmers face the greatest opportunity in history — both in agriculture and in related industries. He listed the great strides made by Arkansas in broiler production and proceeding, and in diversified farming all over the State.

"Our experiences of the past should be our hope for the future," Dr. Hilton concluded. Earlier today, visiting farmers found evidence that their long-cherished dream of a year-round pasture might become a reality in the near future. They saw a lush Bermuda grass pasture on which small grains had been grown successfully during the winter. The experiment proved that one piece of land can be grazed during the winter. The experiment proved that one piece of land can be grazed during both summer and winter.

Dr. R. D. Staten, of the College of Agriculture, agronomy department and Wheeler R. Perkins, Extension district agent, said the experiment was made possible by using a new machine that places seed and fertilizer in one operation without destroying the grass sod. Oats, wheat, barley, and rye all were tried on various parts of the Bermuda pasture, and clippings were made to measure the amount of grazing possible. The rye produced about 8,000 pounds of green matter, the oats 6,500 pounds, wheat nearly 6,000 pounds, and barley 5,000. When the grain gave out in May, hop clover provided grazing until the Bermuda grass was ready.

Because of the extreme dry weather last fall, Staten said, the grain could not have been grazed before February. With a normal season, however, the fall-sown grain would provide some grazing in late fall, as well as throughout the spring. The research showed, too, that heavy fertilization paid off in extra grazing, especially the nitrogen top-dressing in the spring. The Bermuda should also benefit from the fertilizer, Staten said.

Visiting farmers also saw results of the station's research with tomato, cucumber, and watermelon varieties. Earl J. Allen, Extension horticulturist, pointed out 30 strains of watermelons being tested, and declared that at least three showed definite promise as commercial varieties. He said 25 or 30 tomato strains are also under field test, showing that the station is not resting on its laurels with its two current crops.

The celebrated chimpanzee will become the first television star in history to girdle the globe by air plane while still in diapers. Neither J. Milton Berle nor J. Arthur Godfrey can make this claim.

Over at NBC, where Muggs has become at the age of 2 a veteran news commentator as co-star on J. Dave Garroway's "Today" show, J. Fred's journey is being accorded more respect than J. Christopher Columbus' first voyage.

"The other day 20 people attended a conference to iron out the details," said a network man with a note or awe. "Muggs listened for a while, then stretched out in the leather seat of an executive's chair and fell sound asleep. He has tremendous self-possession."

Muggs, who is traveling as a goodwill ambassador for the U.S. television industry is bound to be the most popular American tourist of the year for a very simple reason. He doesn't speak English. Flying via Pan American World Airways, he will hit such key cities as Paris, Rome, Cairo, Hong Kong, Tokyo and Mexico City.

Death was by drowning. The incident occurred Wednesday afternoon in Hope's municipal swimming pool.

Besides her parents she is survived by two sisters and two brothers. Services will be arranged by Hern-Don-Cornelius Funeral Home.

Phantom War Sees Everyone Claiming Wins

By FRANCIS L. MCCARTHY

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras (UP) — Two armies fought a "phantom war" today in the steaming tropical forest inside the Guatemala border.

Sandal-shod anti-Communist invaders using hit-and-run guerrilla tactics raided highways, railroads and border villages but vanished into soggy undergrowth when Guatemalan government troops resisted.

Propaganda machinery of the pro-Communist government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman and the liberation forces under command of rebel Gen. Carlos Castillo Armas both claimed impressive and "bloody" victories in press releases.

But neither side offered any real evidence to confirm their claims. The Guatemalan government said men injured in a battle for control of Chiquimula, a highway-rail center 65 miles northeast of Guatemala City, were being brought to capital hospitals.

Des Moines Winning Flood Fight

DES MOINES, Ia. (UP) — Des Moines was winning its battle against the highest flood crest in the city's history today. Guardsmen and army engineers still patrolled the five and a half miles of levees protecting this city of 178,000.

But Col. Nelson Le Clair, Jr., army district engineer, said "we're winning." "It's been a desperate fight," he added.

However, officials warned the danger won't be over until the surging Des Moines River falls at most seven feet to below flood stage. That wasn't expected until midnight Saturday.

A new danger was posed by the flooding Racon river, which joins the Des Moines here. It was expected to crest at 6 p. m. CST today at 10 1/2 to 17 1/2 feet five to six feet above bankfull.

Arkansas Dies in Louisiana Prison

ANGOLA, La. (AP) — A convict guard at the Louisiana state prison farm near here was shot to death yesterday, and a coroner's jury ruled that he died accidentally.

The victim was George Nellum of England, Ark. He was serving 10 years for manslaughter. There were no witnesses to the shooting. The coroner's jury said Nellum's shotgun apparently discharged when he hit it against the guard shack where he was stationed.

French Beat Off Commie Attack

HANOI, Indochina (UP) — The French high command said today that Communist commands last night attempted to infiltrate and attack Dowson airbase six miles south of Haiphong where American Air Force technicians are stationed.

Alert patrols and machinegun emplacements on the outskirts of the field, one of the largest French air bases in the Red River delta, threw back the attackers, the announcement said.

But Red troops seized three French positions in the delta area one of them astride the vital Haiphong railway linking Hanoi with its port at Haiphong.

The other two posts were at Quing Yen, nine miles northeast of Haiphong and near the French Viet Nam Army training school and in the Southern Delta area at Dan Le, north of Ninh Binh.

All three of the lost posts were "important French defense positions."

The position on the Manoi-Haiphong railway, 25 miles east of Hanoi, was the third such post the Reds have seized along the vital lifeline. The French announcement said it "fell by treachery," presumably through desertion of native militiamen to the Reds.

It wasn't a big blow as hurricanes go. Winds at the center were reported 80 miles an hour, just five miles above hurricane strength.

Churchill, Ike Trying to End Differences

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill met with President Eisenhower today to see whether they can wipe out in intimate talks any "misunderstanding" as Churchill put it, between the two major powers of the anti-Communist world.

Portentous decisions, particularly on the Far East, hang in the balance on the weekend conferences between the President and his White House guest.

Churchill appeared to be in buoyant spirits on his arrival by plane and seemingly sought to deprecate the rift between American and British policies. He spoke of the difficulties as "family matters" and suggested that whatever troubles the United States and Britain may have, those in the Communist world are "even greater."

On the American side, there was an absence of any public expression of confidence and hope about the talks such as, more often than not, is contained in welcoming statements on such occasions.

Diplomats here, in fact, hold a great doubt that anything to improve the situation actually can come out of the talks.

Eisenhower greeted Churchill with a warm handshake at the White House steps. The British leader has been escorted there by Vice President Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles, who met him and his party at the airport.

There were no public statements from Nixon and Dulles on Churchill's arrival but the British leader spoke to an airport crowd on his aims for the talks.

He put it this way: "I've come with Anthony Eden to talk over a few family matters and try to make sure that there are no misunderstandings."

Churchill, in gray suit and horn burg and carrying a gold-headed cane, stepped down from the big American-built airplane. Overseas Airways plane departed at 9 a. m. Eden was with him.

Churchill, 79, moved with remarkable sprightliness. As the crowd cheered, Churchill lifted his hat and waved. His morning sunlight brightened his pin-faced smile.

The military guard drawn up in an open square around the edges of the parking apron stood at present arms.

Churchill shook hands with vice president Nixon and Secretary of State Dulles, British Ambassador Sir Roger Makins and other British commonwealth envoys.

Four Youths Killed in Car Accident

BLACK OAK, Ark. (AP) — A high way accident claimed the lives of four persons near this Craighead County town last night.

Killed when their car and a trailer-truck loaded with watermelons collided were J. D. Armstrong, 20, Jack Pardon, 19, and Billie Dean Farley 17 all of Black Oak. Billie Dean's sister 16-year-old Faynell Farley died en route to a hospital at Jonesboro.

State Patrolman Don Walker identified the truck driver as Jerry Max Haly, 28, of Kennett, Missouri. Haly is being held at Jonesboro on charges of manslaughter, he said.

Lloyd Guerin to Head Local Boy Scout Drive

The Boy Scout finance drive, scheduled to start October 4, will be headed by Dr. Lloyd Guerin. The total amount of the Caddo Council Budget is a little in excess of $35,000 for the year 1955.

Dr. Guerin will be assisted in the organization of the campaign by Harrell Hall, Corbin Foster, James McLarty, Clifford Franks, and Ray Turner. Dr. Guerin is a member of the First Methodist Church, secretary of the Hope Rotary Club, and active with Cub Pack 62. Dr. Guerin and his family reside in the Oakhaven community. He is associated with Dr. Thompson, Optometrist.

Hope is the second largest city in the nine county area and is a major factor in the success of the Council's Scouting Programs. No quotas are ever set for cities or counties for this campaign since we are all one council and one program supported by one budget.

Nehru, Chou Talks Could Alter Picture

By HAROLD K. MILKS

NEW DELHI (AP) — The Communist Premier of 500 million Chinese and the Prime Minister of Democratic India's 350 millions opened a weekend of talks in New Delhi today which could change the history of Asia.

Prime Minister Nehru greeted Red China's Chou En-lai with a red carpet reception on his arrival at the capital's Palam Airport. The Indian Communist party polit bureau ordered "honor" demonstrations throughout Chou's three-day visit but a Red-organized cheering section could arouse only feeble enthusiasm from the airport crowd of about 2,500 persons.

The meeting of Asia's two powerful government chiefs came as a climax to months of East-West tension in which India, trying to play a neutral role, appeared drawn closer and closer to her powerful Communist neighbor.

Chou's dramatic flight from the Geneva conference to meet Nehru appeared a direct challenge to draw world attention from the Washington conference this week end of Prime Minister Churchill and President Eisenhower.

Advance announcements said Korea and Indochina would be the main topics discussed here. Observers predicted Chou would wage a strong campaign to pull Nehru further from neutrality into the "Asia for Asians" circle he called for at Geneva.

"May the friendship between China and India develop with each passing day," said Chou in a statement he read in Chinese on arrival at the airport. "May the unity of the peoples of all Asian countries become daily closer."

There was speculation the talks would get around to the question of a non-aggression pact between the two nations, though Indian Foreign Office spokesmen discounted the possibility of direct action on this.

Indian officials said Nehru as host would be in a position to direct the trend of the conversations. But the advance handling of the visit at all levels indicated it would be the Chinese leader who would be carrying the ball in the talks.

Nationalists Admit Seizing Russian Ship

By WILLIAM MILLER

TAIPEH, Formosa (UP) — Nationalist China revealed today its navy has seized the Russian tanker Tatyana and is holding under armed guard at Keelung harbor.

The Soviet ship, enroute to China with a cargo of oil, was intercepted off the coast of southern Formosa last Wednesday, and taken to the island port.

Nationalist soldiers, armed with bayoneted rifles, were seen to board the 8,000-ton vessel to guard its Russian crew. The ship was anchored near two Polish vessels the S. S. Praca and President Galdwald, seized earlier in the Nationalist blockade of the Red China coast.

Reliable sources said crew members of the Tatyana would be given a chance to seek political asylum, as did some 33 Polish sailors aboard the other two ships.

American officials here had no comment on the seizure and any announcement would have come from Washington.

The Nationalists indicated they had no intention of releasing the Russian ship despite vicious protests by the Soviet Union.

Russia, in a strong note delivered to the American embassy in Moscow, had charged a U. S. ship with seizing the 8,000-ton tanker. The United States denied the accusation.

Capture of the vessel was announced in Taipei by the Chinese Nationalist Information Bureau.

The announcement said the nationalists will deal with the ship as they see fit.

14 Indicted in Revenue Scandal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fourteen persons, including three lawyers, were named today in indictments accusing them of plotting to corrupt Internal Revenue Bureau officials and impede scandal investigations.

Ally Gen. Brownlow, announced the nature of the indictment by federal grand jury in New York. Four persons were named as defendants: the others are co-conspirators.

Those named as co-conspirators included Daniel A. Bolch, former No. 2 man in the old Internal Revenue Bureau, and Henry W. The Dutchman Grunwald, long a mystery man around Washington.

The eight-count indictment named as defendants: Samuel Schopick, and David Davis, partners in the New York law firm of Schopick and Davis; Max Halperin, an attorney said to have been associated with the law firm from time to time; and Milton Hoffman, not an attorney, said to have occupied space with the law firm.

Only the first count of the indictment which alleges conspiracy, included the names of the 10 alleged co-conspirators.

In addition, Grunwald and Bolch, the indictment named the following as co-conspirators: Max Steinberg, former group chief in the office of the internal revenue agent in charge of the upper New York Division; Morton Marx; James A. Zinter; Marjorie Ziper; Spera; and Samuel Cohen, share holders in Patullo Knodes Inc., a dress manufacturing firm; Maurice Smith, an accountant; Patullo Knodes; Louis M. Smith; and Philip Bergman, partner in the Gotham Book Company, a book holder and principal in Gotham Ship Yards Inc., all of New York.

The conspiracy count alleges the four defendants and 10 co-conspirators conspired to influence, intimidate, and impede witnesses before a Brooklyn grand jury and before a House Ways and Means subcommittee which investigated tax scandals.

Brownlow said in a statement that both the Treasury and Justice Departments are continuing the investigation of tax scandals before grand juries in New York and Washington.

Union-Breaking Charged to Hospital

LITTLE ROCK (AP) The Arkansas State Hospital at Little Rock has been charged with "union breaking" tactics.

Two union officials charged yesterday that union members have been fired unjustly at the hospital that the hospital has failed to fulfill an agreement to organize a "satisfactory grievance procedure," and that the unions have been opposed by Hospital Director of Administration K. W. Newman.

The staff representative for Government and Civic Employees Organization (CIO), Betsy Simmons of Little Rock, said court action might be necessary.

And Jim Battles of Birmingham, the national representative of CIO, said he would not hesitate to take the problem to Gov. Cherry.

Newman issued countercharges that the union officials have "tried in every way possible" to cause trouble "between the superintendent (Dr. E. H. Crawfis) and myself."

Simmons and Battles stated that the union employees were fired under a guise of a "reduction in force."

Newman said the force was cut because the hospital did not receive its full appropriation this year.

NEA Raps Ban on Advertising as Deadly

WASHINGTON (AP) The National Editorial Assn. said today a bill to ban interstate advertising of alcoholic beverages smacks of censorship and would set a deadly precedent.

William L. Daley, Washington representative of the association's legislative committee, called the measure "a bold effort to prevent people from utilizing advertising in selling lawfully manufactured commodities."

"If advertising is to be denied to one group of citizens the alcoholic beverage industry—then why not to other industries of value to other citizens, such as unions or certain political candidates or others?" he asked.

Daley said the editorial association, with a membership of some 1,000 daily and weekly newspaper publishers and editors, was concerned that the bill might be motivated by a covert bias as to what the public may be permitted to read or see in various communications media.

"Censorship could be indirectly achieved by devious means," he added.

Daley called the bill unnecessary, saying the courts have held that newspapers are private business ventures and are free to reject such advertising as they wish.

In urging rejection of the legislation, Daley said "it is a backdoor approach to a broader issue and sets a deadly precedent for suppression of advertising and selling other lawful products."

An House Commerce Committee recently held hearings on a similar measure but has taken no action.

Supporters of the legislation have contended that advertising of beer and liquor has encouraged increased consumption, especially by young people.

Opponents have called the bill an attempt by "dry" to bring about a return of prohibition.

Fantastic Treatment Is Described

By RENNIE TAYLOR
 AP Science Reporter

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) The North Koreans had some fantastic medical treatments for their prisoners of war, a U.S. Army doctor reported today.

Prisoners complaining of vitamin deficiencies were on bile from the gall bladders of butcher pigs, Maj. Alexander M. Boyesen, of the Brooke Army Medical Center, Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., told the American Medical Assn.

This treatment did a good job of keeping men away from sick call.

For the treatment of pain a Chinese doctor used a series of short needles attached to spring vibrators. The needles were put into the skin around the painful area and made to vibrate.

"As you might suspect" Maj. Boyesen said, "some cases of back pain and headache were cured by this treatment."

Another Chinese doctor decided all complaints of eye trouble were caused by glaucoma, a condition in which the fluid pressure in the eyeball increases. The Chinese medic treated all eye patients with salt water injections under the eyelid, the medical officer reported.

Maj. Boyesen who is from Bemidji, Minn., spoke of the experiences of himself and four other medical officers who had been captured.

The others were Maj. Clarence L. Anderson of Long Beach, Calif., now at Letterman Hospital, San Francisco; Maj. Sidney Eisenstein, now in private practice in Minneapolis; Capt. Gen. M. Lam, of Glenrock, Wyo., now at Brooke Medical Center; and Capt. William R. Shadish, of New Garden, N.Y., now at Walter Reed Army Center, Washington, D.C.

Wearing a beret and dark glasses, Mugs will take in his entourage his secretary and Girl Friday, J. Mary Kelly; a cameraman; and his two young owners, J. Roy Waldron and J. Bud Menella.

I went along with the chimp the other day to a children's store to watch him pick out some new clothing for the journey a cut-away with morning trousers and pearl gray vest; a white garbaidine suit; a red, white and blue bathing suit.

But it is an open secret in the TV industry that underneath his fancy grab J. Fred still wears diapers. It takes time to house-break a TV commentator.

"We have arranged for a veterinarian to check J. Fred's health at each stop," said Menella. "But what is worrying me is laundry service. Mugs needs 12 changes a day, and I don't know whether any airplane can haul all those diapers."

"In Africa I hope I can find a stand-in for Mugs. He has to make so many personal appearances now I don't know how much longer he can stand up under the strain. Television is very hard on any performer's nerves."

Miss Kelly already views the African stopover with dismay. She is fearful Mugs will go native, rip off his store clothes and disappear into the bush.

"We certainly have no romance in mind for him," she said firmly. "We definitely are not going to let him associate with any other chimpanzees."

"He's getting girl-crazy already. He likes to put his arms around them and hug and kiss them."

During his stay in the store Mugs tore down a rack of hats, broke a dummy head on the floor and jumped up and down in glee. Finally, he playfully refused to put his feet into a pair of overalls held out by Menella.

"Quit being so silly, Mugs," said Menella, impatiently. "You're getting so you act like a child."

Little Known Hurlers Take Spotlight

By NORMAN MILLER
 United Press Sports Writer

Lefty Billy Pierce of the Chicago White Sox, rookie Brooks Lawrence of the St. Louis Cardinals and two bullpen fugitives provided four embattled pitcher contenders with a new pitching shut-in-the-arm today.

Little Don Little of the New York Giants and Tom Morgan of the New York Yankees are the pitchers whose latest first-class starting feats indicate they may be taken off the relief roles where they have labored most of the season.

Pierce, sidelined for nearly one month because of a sore arm, pitched 2-3 hitless relief innings yesterday in preserving a 5-2 White Sox victory over the Washington Senators. The triumph moved the Sox to within two games of the first-place Cleveland Indians.

"Billy's ready now," said Manager Paul Richards after the game. "He was faster than he has been all year. This might be what we need to catch those Indians."

Lawrence, a 29-year-old 205-pound right-hander called up from Columbus last Tuesday by the pitching-poor Cardinals, pitched a brilliant four-hitter in his major league debut to beat the Pittsburgh Pirates, 5-1. The rookie's performance was a tonic to Manager Eddie Stanky, whose Cards boast the most robust batting attack in the majors, but a shallow pitching staff.

Little, who did not start this season until June 6, also pitched a four-hitter to help the Giants retain a one-game lead in the National League race with a 2-1 triumph over the Milwaukee Braves. Willie Mays drove in both Giant runs with his 23rd homer to take over the major league leadership. Little pitched his first complete game of the year in beating Warren Spahn in a left-handers' duel.

Morgan celebrated his first Yankee starting assignment since May 23 by scattering eight hits to beat his prize paties, the Detroit Tigers, 11-2. Morgan contributed a two-run homer in his own cause and Mickey Mantle a two-run double in a pair of three-run uprisings against Ned Garver. Of Morgan's five victories this season, three have come against Detroit.

In the only other American League game, the Cleveland Indians lost ground to both the pursuing White Sox and Yankees when they were beaten by the Philadelphia A's, 5-1, on rookie Arnold Polacsek's five-hitter. The Indians now are four games ahead of the third-place Yankees, with whom they open a three-game series Friday night.

Junior Gilliam, Duke Snider and Roy Campanella hit home runs as the Brooklyn Dodgers stayed one game behind the Giants with a 9-7 victory over the Cincinnati Reds. In the major league's only night game, Earl Torgerson's bases-loaded single in the 11th inning gave the Philadelphia Phillies a 3-2 win over the Chicago Cubs.

Pierce's fine relief stint for the White Sox preserved starter Sandy Consuegra's ninth victory of the season. The Sox southpaw, an 18-game winner last season, did not walk a batter and struck out three.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP) — He is anywhere near smart, a man who writes sports for a living learns over the years never to use the words "first" or "only" in describing an athletic feat if he can think up any means of avoiding it. He becomes aware that sports fans, especially of the baseball variety, are only waiting for a good chance to work him over.

It is doubly difficult to understand, then, how we recently got trapped into saying that Ted Lyons was the only pitcher who had ever jumped directly from college into the big leagues and stayed there through a long and successful career without having been sent to the minors for seasoning. The only possible explanation is that we had heard the story for so long as to forget the common rules of caution.

There were at least two others, as we have verified, and it will come as no great surprise if a few more turn up before we are permitted to forget the incident. There is only small comfort in the fact that several readers who nominated certain pitchers for the distinction were wrong, too.

The two ex-collegians who for certain share the distinction with Lyons were named Eppa Jetha Rixey and Pete Donohue. Both of them, like Lyons, were right-handers and both of them served long and gloriously in the big show after reporting directly from their respective campuses.

Rixey, one of the tallest pitchers on record at 6 feet, 5 inches, reported to the Phillies immediately after his graduation from the University of Virginia in 1912, and it was not until 1933 that he finally called it a career with the Cincinnati Reds. Over that long span the colorful Virginian had one year in which he notched 25 victories and three others of 20 wins or better. He belongs without a quibble.

(So does Donohue. Pete joined the Cincinnati club in 1921, fresh out of Texas Christian University, and he pitched top-notch ball from then until he finished with the Boston Red Sox in 1932. Starting with his second season, the Athens, Tex., product successively scored 18, 21, 16-21 and 20 victories for the Reds. He helped pitch the Reds into three second-place finishes over that span.

NEW YORK (AP) — The little men step into the Madison Square Garden spotlight tonight with classy Lulu Perez of Brooklyn rated a 1-3 choice over experienced Percy Bassett of Philadelphia in a feather-weight elimination bout.

The winner may get a crack at featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and because of the importance of the scrap the distance has been increased from 10 to 12 rounds. The state athletic commission will announce the loser.

George Kell hit a bases-empty home run for Chicago and Tom right hit a two-run pinch homer for Washington.

Legion Team Journeys to Mena Tonight

Hope's Legionnaires make the long journey to Mena tonight for a Little River League game.

Yesterday at Arkadelphia the Pony League All-Stars banged out 12 hits to whip the Arkadelphia team 18 to 4. Perry Futtie and Jerry Fant split the seven inning contest holding the opposition to 3 hits. Practically every player on the Hope roster picked up a base hit with Tommy Polk blasting two doubles and a single. Angelo Hollis cleaned the bases in the third with a long triple to left center. The Hope boys journey to Arkadelphia on the 29th while the Clark county boys come here on July 1st.

On the local scene yesterday Little-Murphy defeated the Star boys 8 to 7 while Rotary racked up a 1-0 shutout over Citizens Bank.

Suits Against Markup System

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two suits asking that injunctions be issued to cancel markup systems used by eight Arkansas wholesale liquor companies were canceled yesterday by the Pulaski Chancery Court.

Chancellor Rodney Parham ruled the complainant, R. G. Shaw, failed to show cause for action. Shaw's attorney, E. M. Arnold, said the decision would be appealed to the Arkansas Supreme Court.

Shaw had also asked the court to look into alleged overcharges under the markup system. The suit charged that the companies had collected more than $1,200,000 in unlawful markups.

Defendants in the suit were: Silbernagel Co., Ind., Pine Bluff; F. Strauss and Son, Inc., of Arkansas; Central Distributors, Inc. McKesson and Robbins, Inc., Warren Distributing Co., Little Rock Distributing Co., Barrett Hamilton Ind., and Razorback Distributors, all of Little Rock.

$1.6 Million for State Waterways

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill containing more than five million dollars for Army civil functions projects in Arkansas cleared the Senate and went to the White House yesterday.

The Senate rejected an attempt by Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) to have the bill sent back to a Senate House Conference Committee, which approved it Monday. Morse wanted project on the Columbia River in Oregon added to the money bill.

A total of $457,071,300 for U.S. Engineers jobs during the fiscal year beginning July 1 is appropriated by the measure. These Arkansas jobs are included:

- St. Paul 8, Charleston 4
- Kansas City 12, Louisville 1
- TEXAS LEAGUE
- Tulsa 4-10, Beaumont 3-0
- Fort Worth 7, Houston 2
- Dallas 3, San Antonio 2
- Shreveport 7, Oklahoma City 3

Light will overcome the most miserable circumstances

Light in the dark

We are in peril... everyone of us, every business, home, church, nation — the whole world. But there is a Beacon Light to Guide us. How foolish if we batten down the hatches, close the doors, and speed-up the noisy music. We may shut out the sound of waves, sight of rocks, and the roar of storms, BUT WE CAN'T SHUT OUT GOD. He is the Light in every storm and will surely guide your ship when the seas are heavy. There will be light in darkness for those who look upward. His church supplies hope for souls whose ambitions have been wrecked. There shall be "LIGHT IN THE DARK."

Andrew Has Easy Win Over Nardico
CHICAGO (AP) Confident Paul Andrews, a rangy ex-paratrooper with a stiff punch in either hand today drew a bead on an Aug. 4 bout with speller Jimmy Slade after enhancing his lightweight ranking here last night.
Andrews scored a fourth-round technical knockout over rugged Danny Nardico out the Chicago Stadium. The 24-year-old Andrews ranked sixth as a 175 pounder-dropped Nardico for a nine count in the third round and the Tampa Fla. slugger was waved off as he tried to start the fourth.
